Education

University of Pittsburgh

PhD Cognitive Psychology (expected graduation: Spring 2019)

MS Cognitive Psychology (completed Spring 2016)

University College London

MSc Cognitive & Decision Sciences (graduated 2011 with distinction)

HELP University, Malaysia

BS Psychology (graduated 2009 with first-class honors)

Professional experience

Graduate Student Researcher, University of Pittsburgh (2013–present)

Researcher on projects investigating causal cognition in humans. Designed and programmed web and lab-based behavioral experiments. Extensive statistical simulation, modeling, and data analysis. Published and presented findings.

Teaching Fellow, University of Pittsburgh (2015–present)

Teaching research methodology lecture sections (50-60 students), supervising undergraduate students in research projects. Designed and developed interactive web-based tutorials for teaching research methods concepts.

Lecturer, Department of Psychology, HELP University (2012–2013)

Designed/taught courses in research methods, cognitive psychology, and judgment and decision-making. Supervised research and teaching assistants.

Research Assistant, Analysis of the Malaysian Electoral Roll (2012)

Worked with Dr. Ong Kian Ming (PI, current Malaysian Member of Parliament) to develop analytical tools for detecting electoral fraud in the Malaysian Electoral Roll.

Selected talks

Cognitive Psychology Brown Bag Series, University of Pittsburgh
September 2017: Does it fit? Proportionality between causes and effects
February 2017: Our patterns of sampling (don't) foreshadow our decisions
March 2016: Causal learning with continuous variables over time
March 2015: Elemental causal learning from transitions
April 2014: Causation from correlation over time
How (ir)rational are we?
Keynote talk. Psychology Colloquium, HELP University (April 2012)
Reasoning about causal changes
Causality Workshop, Causal Cognition Group, University College London (August 2011)

Service

Reviewer for Journal of Experimental Psychology: General (2017) and PLoS ONE (2017)
Statistics Consultant for Honors Students, Department of Psychology, University of Pittsburgh
Program Representative, Department of Psychology, University of Pittsburgh (2014–2015)

Teaching

University of Pittsburgh
Research Methodology (lecture and lab sections)
HELP University
Research Methodology, Cognitive Psychology, Thinking and Deciding, Contemporary Issues in Psychological Research (seminar), Applications of Psychology (seminar)

Honors

University of Pittsburgh

Honorable mention, Tim Post Award for Excellence in Research (2017)
Arts and Sciences Fellowship (2013–2014)

University College London

Commonwealth Scholarship (2010–2011)

HELP University

Top-ranked student at the faculty level (2009)
Merit Scholarship for academic performance (2006–2009)

Professional membership

Cognitive Science Society (2014–present)
The Psychonomic Society (2015–2016)

Skills

Programming languages, statistical and research methods

Data cleaning/visualization/analysis: R, Python, Shiny web-apps, SQL, SPSS
Advanced stats: mixed-effects modeling, topic modelling, Bayesian and causal inference
Other expertise: experimental and survey design, crowdsourcing, web-scraping

Web-based development

Front-end: HTML5, CSS, Javascript, Bootstrap, d3
Back-end: Python, Django, Google Cloud
Data collection: Amazon MTurk, Qualtrics
Publishing: GitHub, Markdown, Jupyter notebooks

Miscellaneous

Microsoft Office, Sublime, Atom, Adobe Lightroom
